Office for Domestic Preparedness Grants for FY2004: State Allocation Fact Sheet

Shawn Reese
Analyst in American National Government
Government and Finance Division

Summary

The Department of Homeland Security, through the Office for Domestic Preparedness allocated $2.9 billion for first responders and urban security in FY2004. State allocations totaled $2.2 billion, while $725 million was allocated to high threat urban areas. This fact sheet will be updated if congressional or executive branch actions warrant.

In FY2004, the Office for Domestic Preparedness (ODP), within the Border and Transportation Security directorate of the Department of Homeland Security, integrated the State Homeland Security Grant Program (SHSP), the new Law Enforcement Terrorism Prevention Grant Program (LETTP), and the Citizen Corps Grant Program (CCP) into a single application process.<sup>1</sup> ODP required the governor of each state to designate a state administrative agency to apply for and administer the funds under these programs. The state administrative agency is the only eligible applicant for these ODP grants.<sup>2</sup>

In FY2004 Congress appropriated to these programs the following:

- ! State Homeland Security Grant Program — $1.7 billion;
- ! Law Enforcement Terrorism Prevention Grant Program — $500 million;
- and,
- ! Citizen Corps Grant Program — $40 million.<sup>3</sup>

FY2004 allocations to these grant programs are determined using a base amount of 0.75% of the total allocation for states (including the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico), and 0.25% of the total allocation for American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The remaining balance of funds is distributed on a population-share bases. Eighty percent of the allocated funds must be passed through to localities.<sup>4</sup>

The High Threat Urban Area Grant Program (HTUA) was appropriated $725 million in FY2004.<sup>5</sup> This program is not part of the integrated ODP application process, and selection of the urban areas is based on a formula that includes critical infrastructure, population density, and credible threat intelligence information. Eighty percent of the funds allocated to the states under this program must be awarded to the designated cities and contiguous counties within the selected urban areas. States may use the remaining 20% for further security enhancements within the designated urban areas.<sup>6</sup>
