Members Who Have Served in the U.S. Congress 30 Years or More

Summary

This report identifies those 234 Members of Congress whose service in the House or Senate, or both, has been 30 years or more. The information provided is current through July 7, 2007.

To place this information in perspective, it should be noted that some 11,814 individuals have served in Congress since 1789. Excluding Delegates and Resident Commissioners, this includes 9,919 persons who have served only in the House, 1,250 persons who have served only in the Senate, and 645 who have served in both houses.

Of the names listed here, 137 have spent all of their congressional careers in the House; 27 have spent all of their careers in the Senate; and 70 have had combined service in the House and Senate to achieve 30 or more years of service. Three women are included in the listing. Seventeen incumbent Senators and 17 incumbent Representatives have served 30 years or longer.

This report will be updated as events warrant.

Members Who Have Served in the U.S. Congress 30 Years or More

This report contains the names of all Members of the United States Congress who have served 30 or more years, as of January 3, 2006. The names are listed in order of length of congressional service. Party affiliation, state(s) represented, service in the House or Senate, or both, and total length of congressional service are provided for each Member.

As of July 7, 2007, a total of 234 individuals have served 30 or more years in Congress. To place this figure in perspective, it should be noted that 11,814 individuals have served in Congress since 1789.¹ It is of further interest to note that only nine of the 234 individuals with 30 or more years of service served during the 18th and 19th centuries. The remaining 225 served entirely during the 20th century, partially in the 19th century and partially in the 20th century, or partially in the 20th century and partially in the 21st century. Seventeen incumbent Senators and 17 incumbent Representatives have served 30 years or longer. Their names are listed in boldface type. Three women are included in the list. All served in the 20th century, and their names are listed in italics.

In compiling the list, leap year days were calculated separately and added to a Member's years, months, and days of service. In addition, for Members who served part of any year, the figure of 30 days was used to calculate the number of days in a month when converting days into months. For example, if a Member served 30 years, eight months, and 36 days, 30 of the 36 days were used to constitute a month so that the end result for this hypothetical Member would be 30 years, nine months, and six days.

The sources for this compilation include a similar list appearing in "Service Time of Congressmen," Congressional Record, vol. 113, March 9, 1967, pp. 6191-6193, which contained numerous inaccuracies, the Biographical Directory of the American Congress, 1774-2005, and various editions of the Congressional Directory (Washington: GPO).

¹ This figure excludes Delegates and Resident Commissioners. It includes 9,919 persons who have served only in the House, 1,250 persons who have served only in the Senate, and 645 who have served in both houses of Congress.

Note: Service calculated as of July 7, 2007. Members currently serving are identified in bold. The three women who have served more than 30 years are listed in italics.

a. Members with the identical length of service are ranked with the same number. The total number of Members of Congress with 30 years of service is 234.

b. In calculating the congressional service of these Members, leap year days were counted as extra days, and 30 days were counted as one month.
