The following list of authoritative resources has been compiled to assist in responding to a broad range of constituent questions and concerns about the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), P.L. 111-5. Links to the full text of the act, Congressional Budget Office (CBO) estimates, White House fact sheets, and federal, state, and municipal government websites are included, along with other useful information. This list reflects information that is currently available on the Internet. It will be updated regularly as other relevant material becomes available.

Full Text of the Law

P.L. 111-5 (H.R. 1) was signed by the President on February 17, 2009.

Conference Report (H.Rept. 111-16) was passed by the House and Senate on February 13, 2009. This includes the Joint Explanatory Statement.

Congressional Budget Office (CBO) Cost Estimates

Estimates of ARRA's impact on the budget and a detailed analysis of the budgetary impact by title.

<http://www.cbo.gov/ftpdocs/99xx/doc9989/hr1conference.pdf>

White House Information

Fact Sheets

Provides general fact sheets on broad policy areas within the stimulus (e.g., education, energy, health, infrastructure) and estimates by state the number of jobs that will be created or saved.

http://www.whitehouse.gov/the_press_office/state_by_state_employment_impact/

Recovery.gov

The Administration's website that is intended to be a repository for information related to implementation and oversight of the stimulus. It currently includes overview information about the legislation, a timeline for implementation, a frequently asked questions page, and an announcement page that will be regularly updated. The Administration's intent is to develop the site to encompass information about available funding, distribution of funds, and major recipients.

<http://www.recovery.gov>

Each federal agency receiving funds from the act will submit weekly cumulative reports on their recovery activities. Updated reports are submitted each Tuesday, and detail major actions taken by each agency and how much money has been spent.

Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Guidance

OMB issued a detailed guidance document on February 18, 2009, directing executive branch agencies to develop a dedicated portion of their websites for information related to the recovery. This document was updated based on input from the various stakeholders on April 3, 2009, and June 22, 2009. All three guidance documents are available on the recovery.gov website, in the featured news section:

Original document (February 18, 2009): <http://www.recovery.gov/files/Initial%20Recovery%20Act%20Implementing%20Guidance.pdf>

Amended document (April 3, 2009): <http://www.recovery.gov/sites/default/files/m09-15.pdf>

Amended document (June 22, 2009): <http://www.recovery.gov/sites/default/files/OMB+Final+Cover+Memo.pdf>

OMB has created a nationwide data collection system for recipients of ARRA funds to use for submitting their required data. Only registered users may use this system. Data collected will be available to the public on the recovery.gov site beginning October 11, 2009.

Government Accountability Office Reports

The Government Accountability Office (GAO) is required to conduct bimonthly reviews of selected funding recipients and to report on the use of funds. These GAO reviews currently include 16 states and the District of Columbia and are available on the GAO website at <http://www.gao.gov/recovery/bimonthly/>.

GAO has developed a website covering not only the above-mentioned fund recipient reviews, but also links to other GAO products and instructions for reporting fraud or misuse of ARRA funds. Following the Money: GAO's Oversight of the Recovery Act is available at <http://www.gao.gov/recovery/>.

Other available GAO products include the following:
