Summary

This report collects statistics from a variety of sources on casualties sustained during Operation Enduring Freedom (OEF), which began on October 7, 2001, and is ongoing. OEF actions take place primarily in Afghanistan; however, OEF casualties also includes American casualties in Pakistan, Uzbekistan, Guantanamo Bay (Cuba), Djibouti, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Jordan, Kenya, Kyrgyzstan, the Philippines, Seychelles, Sudan, Tajikistan, Turkey, and Yemen.

Casualty data of U.S. military forces are compiled by the U.S. Department of Defense (DOD), as tallied from the agency's press releases. Also included are statistics on those wounded but not killed. Statistics may be revised as circumstances are investigated and as records are processed through the U.S. military's casualty system. More frequent updates are available at DOD's website at <http://www.defenselink.mil/news/> under "Casualty Update."

A detailed casualty summary of U.S. military forces that includes data on deaths by cause, as well as statistics on soldiers wounded in action, is available at the following DOD website: <http://siadapp.dmdc.osd.mil/personnel/CASUALTY/castop.htm>.

NATO's International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) does not post casualty statistics of the military forces of partner countries on the ISAF website at <http://www.isaf.nato.int/>. ISAF press releases state that it is ISAF policy to defer to the relevant national authorities to provide notice of any fatality. For this reason, this report uses fatality data of coalition forces as compiled by CNN.com and posted online at <http://www.cnn.com/SPECIALS/2004/oef.casualties/index.html>.

Reporting on casualties of Afghans did not begin until 2007, and a variety of entities now report the casualties of civilians and security forces members. The United Nations Assistance Mission to Afghanistan (UNAMA) reports casualty data of Afghan civilians semiannually, and the U.S. Department of Defense occasionally includes civilian casualty figures within its reports on Afghanistan. The Afghanistan Independent Human Rights Commission, http://www.aihrc.org/2010_eng/, and the Afghan Rights Monitor, <http://www.arm.org.af/>, are local watchdog organizations that periodically publish reports regarding civilian casualties. From July 2009 through April 2010, the Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR) included statistics of casualties of members of the Afghan National Army and Afghan National Police in its quarterly reports to Congress. SIGAR has ceased this practice, and there is no other published compilation of these statistics. This report now derives casualty figures of Afghan soldiers and police from the press accounts of the Reuters "Factbox: Security Developments in Afghanistan" series, the Pajhwok Afghan News agency, the Afghan Islamic Press news agency, Daily Outlook Afghanistan from Kabul, and the AfPak Channel Daily Brief. These services attribute their reported information to officials of the NATO-led ISAF or local Afghan officials. The Afghan news agencies frequently include statements from representatives of the Taliban; however, any figures such spokesmen provide are not included in this report.

Because the estimates of Afghan casualties contained in this report are based on varying time periods and have been created using different methodologies, readers should exercise caution when using them and should look to them as guideposts rather than as statements of fact.

This report will be updated as needed.

The following tables present data on U.S. military casualties in Operation Enduring Freedom, deaths of coalition partners in Afghanistan, and Afghan casualties, respectively.

Table 1. Operation Enduring Freedom, U.S. Fatalities and Wounded

- “Fatalities in and around Afghanistan” includes casualties that occurred in Afghanistan, Pakistan, and Uzbekistan.
- “Other locations” includes casualties that occurred in Guantanamo Bay (Cuba), Djibouti, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Jordan, Kenya, Kyrgyzstan, the Philippines, Seychelles, Sudan, Tajikistan, Turkey, and Yemen.
- Fatalities include three Department of Defense civilian personnel.
- According to the Department of Defense Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms, as amended through 31 August 2005, a “hostile casualty” is a victim of a terrorist activity or a casualty as the result of combat or attack by any force against U.S. forces, available at http://www.dtic.mil/doctrine/dod_dictionary/.
- The above-named reference defines a “nonhostile casualty” as a casualty that is not directly attributable to hostile action or terrorist activity, such as casualties due to the elements, self-inflicted wounds, or combat fatigue.

- a. Countries listed indicate the nationality of the military forces, not of the individuals. For example, Fijians who were killed while fighting in French forces are counted as French. Similarly, citizens of other nations who fight in American military forces are counted as Americans.

Table 4. Afghan Casualties

Group	Period	Number of Casualties	Note
Afghan Civilians	January-March 2012 ^a	383 killed 737 wounded	Up to 47 Afghan civilians died from improvised explosive devices that explode on contact or bombs planted on parked bicycles, motorcycles, or rickshaws then detonated from a distance.
	11,864 civilians have been killed in the conflict since 2007, when the United Nations began reporting statistics, to the end of 2011.	2011 ^b	3,021 killed 4,507 injured Includes 495 targeted killings of local, provincial, and district government officials and workers.	Anti-government elements (AGEs), killed 2,332 civilians, 77% of all conflict-related civilian deaths. AGEs include the Taliban and other individuals or groups who engage in armed conflict with the government of Afghanistan or members of the international military forces. Pro-government forces, including international military personnel, were responsible for 410 civilian deaths. It is unclear who caused the remaining 279 deaths.
		2010 ^c	2,777 killed 4,343 injured	AGEs were reported responsible for 75% of the civilian deaths and 78% of civilian injuries.
		2009 ^d	2,412 killed 3,566 injured	67% of civilian deaths were attributed to actions of AGEs (78% of these deaths were caused by improvised explosive devices and suicide attacks). 25% of civilian deaths were attributed to pro-government forces.
	2008 ^e	2,118 killed	8% of civilian deaths were the result of cross-fire or improperly detonated ordnance.
	2007 ^e	1,523 killed
	Afghan National Army, National Directorate of Security operatives, Security Guards	January-March 2012 ^a	77 killed 148 wounded	Most of these men died while under attack from Taliban and other anti-government fighters.
		2011 ^a	511 killed 256 wounded

Group	Period	Number of Casualties	Note
Afghan National, Local, and Border Police	2010	821 killed ^f 775 wounded ^g	Information released by General Zahir Azimi, spokesman for the Afghan Defence Ministry.
	2009 ^h	292 killed 859 wounded
	2008 ⁱ	259 killed 875 wounded
	2007 ⁱ	278 killed 750 wounded
	January-March 2012 ^a	112 killed 174 wounded	Nine police officers at a remote post died when a colleague drugged their food, then shot them while they slept. He drove away in the official vehicle with all the weapons and ammunition from the post. He was killed a short time later.
	2011 ^a	569 killed 552 wounded
	2010 ⁱ	1,292 killed 743 wounded
	2009 ^k	639 killed 1,145 wounded
