Summary

This report provides a convenient listing of online FY2014 agency budget justification submissions for all 15 executive branch departments and 9 selected independent agencies. In most cases, budget justifications contain more detailed descriptions of proposals and programs than are provided in the President's budget submissions.

This report will be updated to reflect the current budget justification submissions for the forthcoming fiscal year.

Introduction

Each summer, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) issues instructions to all federal agencies on submitting budget data and materials for inclusion in the President's budget submission to Congress. These instructions are in a document entitled, Circular No. A-11: Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget.<sup>1</sup> After the President's budget documents are released, Congress begins to hold hearings on agency budget requests.<sup>2</sup> Agencies must submit budget justifications to the appropriations subcommittees holding the hearings. Beginning with the FY2008 executive budget cycle, agencies are required to post their congressional budget justification materials on the Internet within two weeks of transmittal to Congress.<sup>3</sup>

Budget justifications generally contain more detailed descriptions of an agency's proposals and programs than are provided in the President's budget submission to Congress, with the form and content of these justifications varying by agency and appropriations subcommittee.<sup>4</sup>

CRS Report RS20268, Agency Justification of the President's Budget, by Michelle D. Christensen, provides a short overview of agency justifications. In addition to providing a broader perspective on the budget process, CRS Report 98-721, Introduction to the Federal Budget Process, coordinated by Bill Heniff Jr., includes a discussion of how the President's budget submission fits into the subsequent congressional budget process.

Online Access to Budget Justifications

Online access to websites containing links to FY2014 budget justification documents for each of the 15 executive departments and 9 independent agencies are provided below.<sup>5</sup> As needed, brief guidance for navigating to FY2014-specific materials is provided below the links.
