Staff Pay Levels for Selected Positions in Senators' Offices, FY2001-FY2020

Levels of pay for congressional staff are a source of recurring questions among Members of Congress, congressional staff, and the public. There may be interest in congressional pay data from multiple perspectives, including assessment of the costs of congressional operations, guidance in setting pay levels for staff in Member offices, or comparison of congressional staff pay levels with those of other federal government pay systems.

This report provides pay data for 24 staff position titles that are typically found in Senators' offices. The following table provides the positions, and the change in median pay levels between FY2019 and FY2020 for those positions, in constant 2021 dollars.

Selected Staff Positions and Percentage Change in Median Pay, FY2019-FY2020

Report tables provide aggregate statistics on pay for most staff positions for FY2001, FY2006, FY2011, and FY2016-FY2020, including quartiles, the median, and average pay. Complete data since 2001 or later are available to congressional clients upon request. Graphic displays are also included, providing representations of pay from the following two perspectives:

- a line graph for most positions showing change in median pay, FY2001-FY2020, in nominal (current) and constant 2021 dollars; and
- distributions for all positions of FY2020 pay in constant 2021 dollars, in $10,000 increments.

Introduction

Levels of pay for congressional staff are a source of recurring questions among Members of Congress, congressional staff, and the public. Senators set the terms and conditions of employment for staff in their offices. These include job titles and descriptions;¹ rates of pay, subject to minimum and maximum levels;² and resources available to them to carry out their official duties.³ There may be interest in congressional pay data from multiple perspectives, including assessment of the costs of congressional operations, guidance in setting pay levels for staff in Senators' offices, or comparison of congressional staff pay levels with those of other federal government pay systems.

Publicly available information sources do not provide aggregated congressional staff pay data in a readily retrievable form. The most recent publicly available Senate staff compensation report was issued in 2006,⁴ and relied on anonymous, self-reported survey data. Data in this report are based on official, retrievable Senate reports, which afford the opportunity to use data from a consistent, authoritative source. Pay information in this report is based on the Senate's Report of the Secretary of the Senate,⁵ published semiannually, in periods from April 1 to September 30, and October 1 to March 31,⁶ as collated by LegiStorm, a private entity that provides some congressional data by subscription.⁷ Annual data allow for observations about the nature of Senators' personal staff compensation over time.

This report provides pay data for 24 staff position titles that are typically found in Senators' offices.⁸ The positions include the following:

Administrative Director	Deputy Press Secretary	Press Secretary
Caseworker	Executive Assistant	Regional Director
Chief of Staff	Field Representative	Regional Representative
Communications Director	Legislative Aide	Scheduler
Constituent Services Representative	Legislative Assistant	Scheduling Director
Correspondence Manager	Legislative Correspondent	Speechwriter
Counsel	Legislative Director	Staff Assistant
Deputy Chief of Staff	Press Assistant	State Director

² Since 2019, the minimum level of gross annual pay has been $3,164 for Senate staff. The maximum annual pay for staff in a Senator's personal office has since 2019 been $173,900; see 2 U.S.C. 4575. Maximum payable rates for staff in a Senator's office since 2001 are available in Table 1.

⁴ U.S. Senate, Secretary of the Senate, 2006 U.S. Senate Employment, Compensation, Hiring and Benefits Study (Washington: 2006).

⁵ In this report, pay refers to monies paid by the Senate to staff, and excludes other components of total compensation, which might include paid leave or employer contributions to various insurance and retirement benefits.

⁶ The Report of the Secretary of the Senate since April 2011 is available at https://www.senate.gov/legislative/common/generic/report_secsen.htm.

⁷ See <http://www.legistorm.com/>.

⁸ Pay data for Correspondence Manager, Deputy Chief of Staff, Deputy Press Secretary, Legislative Aide, Press Assistant, Regional Director, Regional Representative, Scheduling Director, and Speechwriter are available FY2019-FY2020.

The collection of Senators' staff pay data for FY2001-FY2020 proceeded as follows. For each fiscal year, a random sample of 25 Senators' offices was taken for each position.⁹ Senate staff had to hold a position with the same job title in the Senator's office for the entire fiscal year examined, and not receive pay from any other congressional employing authority to be included. Generally, each position has no more than one observation per Senator's office each fiscal year.

Every recorded payment ascribed in the LegiStorm data to those staff for the fiscal year is included in the calculation of a staffer's annual pay. Data collected for this report may differ from an employee's stated annual salary due to the inclusion of overtime, bonuses, or other payments in addition to base salary paid in the course of a year.

For some positions, it was not possible to identify 25 offices that employed staff in some positions for an entire year. In circumstances when data for 10 or fewer staff were identified for a position, this report provides no data.

The Congressional Research Service provides a number of products on staffing issues. These can be found in CRS Report R44688, Congressional Staff: CRS Products on Size, Pay, Job Tenure, and Duties.

Data Concerns

There may be some advantages to relying on official salary expenditure data instead of survey findings, but data presented here are subject to some challenges that could affect findings or their interpretation. Some of the concerns include the following:

- Since periods of time covered by the Report of the Secretary of the Senate overlap the end of one Congress and convening of the next, data are not available for first-term Senators in the first session of a Congress. Data presented in this report do not include staff serving in the offices of first-term Senators during the first nine months of their service.
- The Report of the Secretary of the Senate reports monies paid directly by the Senate to staff, but does not provide the individual value of other components of compensation, which might include paid leave or employer contributions to various insurance and retirement benefits.
- Pay data provide no insight into the education, work experience, position tenure, full- or part-time status of staff, or other potential explanations for levels of compensation for individuals.
- Staff could be based in Washington, DC, state offices, or both.
- Potential differences might exist in the job duties of positions with the same title. Aggregation of pay by job title rests on the assumption that staff with the same title carry out the same or similar tasks. Given the wide discretion congressional employing authorities have in setting the terms and conditions of employment,

there may be differences in the duties of similarly titled staff that could have effects on their levels of pay. Acknowledging the imprecision inherent in congressional job titles, an older edition of the Senate Handbook states, “Throughout the Senate, individuals with the same job title perform vastly different duties.”¹⁰

- Pay data provide no insight into the potential comparability of compensation for similar position titles (e.g., Legislative Aide and Legislative Assistant); potential similarities in the duties of some positions (e.g., Press Secretary and Communications Director); or apparent similarities of duties between long-standing and more recently emerging position titles (e.g. Scheduler and Scheduling Director).¹¹

Data Tables and Visualizations

Tables in this section provide background information on Senate pay practices, comparative data for each position, and detailed data and visualizations for each position. Table 1 provides the maximum payable rates for staff in Senators' offices since 2001 in both nominal (current) and constant 2021 dollars. Constant dollar calculations throughout the report are based on the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U) for various years, expressed in constant 2021 dollars.¹²

Table 2 provides available percentage changes in median pay in constant 2021 dollars for each of the 24 positions, Members of Congress,¹³ and salaries paid under the General Schedule in Washington, DC, and surrounding areas, and in the Rest of the United States (RUS) area.¹⁴ Table 3 through Table 26 provide tabular pay data for each staff position. The tables provide data for FY2001, FY2006, FY2011, and FY2016-FY2020 for most positions,¹⁵ including data distributed by quartile, median pay, and average pay.¹⁶ The numbers of staff for which data were counted are identified as “Number” in the data tables. Staff pay tables also provide a comparison, at various intervals to FY2020, based on data availability, of the cumulative percentage change in median pay for that position, in constant 2021 dollars.

Senate Member Office Staff Pay Tables

Interpreting Pay Tables: Statistics Describing Pay Data

For each year that data are available, statistical values for staff positions are included in Table 3 through Table 26, including the following:

Minimum & Maximum	The smallest and largest pay level, respectively, for each position.
Average (Mean)	The mean is the average of a list of numbers, in which the sum of all the values is divided by the total number of values. For example, if three salaries, $30,000, $45,000, and $90,000 were identified for a given staff position, the average (mean) would be $($30,000 + $45,000 + $90,000) \div 3 = $55,000$.
Median	The midpoint at which half of the numbers in a list are higher and the other half lower. For example, if three salaries, $30,000, $45,000, and $90,000 were identified for a given staff position, the midpoint (median) would be $45,000.
Statistical Quartiles	Statistical values that divide data into quarters for more detailed analysis. In a list of numbers, Quartile 1 (Q1) is a number that falls in the middle between the lowest number, or minimum, and the median. For example, if Q1 for a given staff position was $50,000, this would indicate that 25% of employees in that position make $50,000 or less. Quartile 2 (Q2) is also the median. Quartile 3 (Q3) is a number that falls in the middle between the median and the highest number in the list, or maximum. Numbers between Q1 and Q3 compose the interquartile range, the difference between the largest and smallest values in the middle 50% of a list of numbers. Quartiles might also be described as percentiles, as shown below.

Statistical Measures Used in Pay Tables

Minimum	Quartile 1 (Q1)	Quartile 2 (Q2) Median	Quartile 3 (Q3)	Maximum	Average
Lowest number in a list	25 th percentile	50 th percentile	75 th percentile	Highest number in a list	The mean, or number expressing the central value in a set of data
	25% of staff make less than Q1	50% of staff make less than Q2	75% of staff make less than Q3
	Middle number between Minimum and Median	Median-midpoint at which half of the numbers in a list are higher and the other half lower	Middle number between Median and Maximum
	Lower Quartile	Interquartile Range = Q3-Q1	Upper Quartile
