Overview of FY2022 Appropriations for Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies (CJS)

This report describes actions taken to provide FY2022 appropriations for Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies (CJS) accounts. The annual CJS appropriations act provides funding for the Department of Commerce, which includes bureaus and offices such as the Census Bureau, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and the National Institute of Standards and Technology; the Department of Justice (DOJ), which includes agencies such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Bureau of Prisons, the U.S. Marshals, the Drug Enforcement Administration, and the U.S. Attorneys; the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA); the National Science Foundation (NSF); and several related agencies such as the Legal Services Corporation (LSC) and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The Administration requests $83.924 billion for CJS for FY2022, which is $8.388 billion (+11.1%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation (i.e., total appropriations not counting the $929 million in emergency supplemental appropriations for CJS for FY2021). The Administration's budget request for CJS includes $11.581 billion for the Department of Commerce, which is $2.666 billion (+29.9%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation; $36.117 billion for the Department of Justice, which is $2.327 billion (+6.9%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation; $34.979 billion for the science agencies, which is $3.214 billion (+10.1%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation; and $1.247 billion for the related agencies, which is $181 million (+17.0%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation. The Administration's FY2022 budget proposes to consolidate funding for the Census Bureau in one account. Currently, the Census Bureau is funded through two accounts: Current Surveys and Programs and Periodic Censuses and Programs.

The FY2022 CJS appropriations reported by the House Committee on Appropriations would provide a total of $83.324 billion for CJS, which is $7.788 billion (+10.3%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $496 million (-0.6%) less than the Administration's request. The committee-reported bill includes $10.945 billion for the Department of Commerce, which is $2.031 billion (+22.8%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $635 million (-5.5%) less than the Administration's request; $36.435 billion for the Department of Justice, which is $2.645 billion (+7.8%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $422 million (+1.2%) more than the Administration's request; $34.682 billion for the science agencies, which is $2.916 billion (+9.2%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $298 million (-0.9%) less than the Administration's request; and $1.262 billion for the related agencies, which is $196 million (+10.3%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $15 million (+1.2%) more than the Administration's request. The committee did not adopt the Administration's proposal to fund the Census Bureau's operations through a single account.

This report describes actions taken to provide FY2022 appropriations for Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies (CJS) accounts. This report also provides information on FY2021 supplemental appropriations for CJS. (Enacted funding for CJS for the past 10 fiscal years can be found in Table A-1.)

The dollar amounts in this report reflect only new appropriations made available for the fiscal year. Therefore, the amounts do not include any rescissions of unobligated or deobligated balances that may be counted as offsets to newly enacted appropriations, nor do they include any scorekeeping adjustments (e.g., the budgetary effects of provisions limiting the availability of the balance in the Crime Victims Fund). In this report, appropriations are rounded to the nearest million. However, percentage changes are calculated using whole, not rounded, numbers, meaning that in some instances there may be small differences between the actual percentage change and the percentage change that would be calculated by using the rounded amounts discussed in the report.

Overview of CJS

The annual CJS appropriations act provides funding for the Department of Commerce, the Department of Justice (DOJ), select science agencies, and several related agencies. Appropriations for the Department of Commerce include funding for bureaus and offices such as the Census Bureau, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and the National Institute of Standards and Technology. Appropriations for DOJ provide funding for agencies such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation; the Bureau of Prisons; the U.S. Marshals; the Drug Enforcement Administration; and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, along with funding for a variety of public safety-related grant programs for state, local, and tribal governments. The vast majority of funding for the science agencies goes to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the National Science Foundation.<sup>1</sup> The annual appropriation for the related agencies includes funding for agencies such as the Legal Services Corporation and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Department of Commerce

The mission of the Department of Commerce is to “create the conditions for economic growth and opportunity.”<sup>2</sup> The department promotes “job creation and economic growth by ensuring fair and reciprocal trade, providing the data necessary to support commerce and constitutional democracy, and fostering innovation by setting standards and conducting foundational research and development.”<sup>3</sup> It has wide-ranging responsibilities including trade, economic development, technology, entrepreneurship and business development, monitoring the environment, forecasting weather, managing marine resources, and statistical research and analysis. The science offices and agencies support research and development and related activities across a wide variety of federal missions, including national competitiveness, space exploration, and fundamental discovery.

Office of Science and Technology Policy

The primary function of the Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) is to provide the President and others within the Executive Office of the President with advice on the scientific, engineering, and technological aspects of issues that require the attention of the federal government.<sup>5</sup> The OSTP director also manages the National Science and Technology Council,<sup>6</sup> which coordinates science and technology policy across the executive branch of the federal government, and cochairs the President’s Council of Advisors on Science and Technology,<sup>7</sup> a council of external advisors that provides advice to the President on matters related to science and technology policy.

FY2022 Budget Request

The Administration requests $83.924 billion for CJS for FY2022, which is $8.388 billion (+11.1%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation (see Table 1). There was also $929 million in emergency supplemental appropriations for CJS for FY2021 (see Table 2). The Administration's budget request for CJS includes the following:

- $11.581 billion for the Department of Commerce, which is $2.666 billion (+29.9%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation;
- $36.117 billion for the Department of Justice, which is $2.327 billion (+6.9%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation;
- $34.979 billion for the science agencies, which is $3.214 billion (+10.1%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation; and
- $1.247 billion for the related agencies, which is $181 million (+17.0%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation.

The Administration's FY2022 budget requests funding for every Department of Commerce account at or above the FY2021 regular appropriation. The Administration's FY2022 budget requests double-digit percentage increases for many Department of Commerce accounts, such as the NTIA (+44 million, a 96.8% increase); NIST's Construction of Research Facilities account (+$60 million, a 75.0% increase); the MBDA (+$22 million, a 45.9% increase); NOAA's Procurement, Acquisition, and Construction account (+$694 million, a 45.3% increase), EDA's Economic Development Assistance Programs account (+$77 million, a 25.2% increase); EDA's Salaries and Expenses account (+$10 million, a 25.0% increase); NOAA's Operations, Research, and Facilities account (+$849 million, a 22.1% increase); NIST's Scientific and Technical Research and Services account (+$128 million, a 16.2% increase); and the ESA (+$14 million, a 12.3% increase). The Administration also proposes a 165.3% (+$275 million) increase for NIST's Industrial Technology Services account. The Administration's FY2022 budget proposes to consolidate funding for the Census Bureau in one account. Currently, the Census Bureau is funded through two accounts: Current Surveys and Programs and Periodic Censuses and Programs. According to the Administration, the new account structure would support the bureau's "multi-year process of transforming its organization and operations from a 20th century survey-centric model to a 21st century data-centric model that blends survey data with administrative and alternative digital data sources."<sup>12</sup>

The Administration's FY2022 budget requests increased funding for nearly every DOJ account. The exceptions are the FBI Construction account, for which the Administration proposes an 89.1% decrease; the DEA Construction account, for which the Administration does not request any funding; and BOP's Salaries and Expenses account, for which the Administration proposes a 0.5% reduction. The Administration also proposes funding the Fees and Expenses of Witnesses, the USMS Construction, and the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement accounts at the FY2021 enacted levels. The Administration requests increased funding for the Salaries and Expenses account of DOJ's law enforcement agencies (FBI, +$465 million, a 4.8% increase; USMS, +$145 million, a 9.7% increase; ATF, +$71 million, a 4.8% increase; and DEA, +$22 million, a 3.1% increase) and the U.S. Attorneys (+$197 million, an 8.4% increase). The Administration proposes increases for each of DOJ's grant accounts: OVW (+$487 million, a 94.7% increase); Juvenile Justice Programs (+$450 million, a 130.1% increase); COPS (+$265 million, a 68.7% increase); and State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance (+$134 million, a 7.0% increase). The Administration also proposes increasing the obligation cap on the Crime Victims Fund by $635 million to $2.650 billion (+31.5%).

The Administration's FY2022 budget includes proposed increases for the Office of Science and Technology Policy, NASA, and NSF. The Administration proposes funding the National Space Council at the FY2021 enacted level. The Administration requests a $1.530 billion increase (+6.6%) for NASA for FY2022, which includes a requested increase for nearly all of NASA's accounts (the one exception is the Construction and Environmental Compliance and Restoration account, which the Administration proposes funding at the FY2021 enacted level). The Administration requests a $1.683 billion (+19.8%) increase for NSF, which includes a proposed increase for each of NSF's accounts.

The Administration's budget includes proposed increases for many of the related agencies. The two exceptions are requested funding for the International Trade Commission and the Trade Enforcement Fund, which the Administration proposes funding at the FY2021 enacted levels.

House Committee-Reported Bill

The House Committee on Appropriations reported its FY2022 CJS appropriations bill on July 19, 2021 (H.R. 4505). The bill would provide a total of $83.324 billion for CJS, which is $7.788 billion (+10.3%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $496 million (-0.6%) less than the Administration's request. The committee-reported bill includes the following:

- $10.945 billion for the Department of Commerce, which is $2.031 billion (+22.8%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $635 million (-5.5%) less than the Administration's request;
- $36.435 billion for the Department of Justice, which is $2.645 billion (+7.8%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $422 million (+1.2%) more than the Administration's request;
- $34.682 billion for the science agencies, which is $2.916 billion (+9.2%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $298 million (-0.9%) less than the Administration's request; and
- $1.262 billion for the related agencies, which is $196 million (+10.3%) more than the FY2021 regular appropriation and $15 million (+1.2%) more than the Administration's request.

The bill reported by the House Committee on Appropriations would fund each Commerce account at or above the FY2021 regular appropriation, but it would fund some Commerce accounts below the amounts requested by the Administration. The committee recommends an overall reduction in funding for NIST (-$128 million, -8.6%) and NOAA (-$506 million, -7.3%) relative to the Administration's request. The overall reduction for NIST is the result of a proposed reduction for the Industrial Technology Services (-$110 million, -24.9%) and Construction of Research Facilities (-$40 million, -28.6%) accounts. The overall reduction for NOAA is the result of a proposed reduction for the Operations, Research, and Facilities (-$264 million, -5.6%) and Procurement, Acquisition, and Construction (-$242 million, -10.9%) accounts. The bill would also fund ESA at a level that is $5 million (-4.0%) less than the request. The committee did not adopt the Administration's proposal to fund the Census Bureau's operations through a single account.

The committee-reported bill would fund all DOJ accounts at levels equal to or greater than the FY2021 regular appropriation, with the exception of the FBI's Construction account (-$504 million, -89.1%). The committee generally recommended funding for DOJ accounts that was equal to or greater than the Administration's request, but there were a few notable exceptions. The committee-reported bill would provide less than the Administration requested for the Juvenile Justice Programs (-$302 million, -37.9%), Office on Violence Against Women (-$246 million, -24.6%), and COPS (-$200 million, -30.7%) accounts. The committee also proposes a $20 million (-0.5%) reduction for the USMS and a $5 million (-0.2%) reduction for the U.S. Attorneys.

The committee recommends increased funding for NASA, NSF, and the Office of Science and Technology Policy relative to the FY2021 enacted appropriation. The committee recommends funding the National Space Council at the FY2021 enacted level. The committee-reported bill would provide an overall increase for NASA (+$237 million, +1.0%) relative to the Administration's request, though the committee recommends decreased funding for the Space Technology (-$145 million, -10.2%); Space Operations (-$56 million, -1.4%); and Safety, Security, and Mission Services (-$19 million, -0.6%) accounts relative to the Administration's request. The committee recommendation for NSF is below the Administration's request (-$535 million, -5.3%), with proposed reductions to the Research and Related Activities (-$444 million, -5.5%), Agency Operations and Award Management (-$78 million, -16.7%), and Education and Human Resources (-$13 million, -1.0%) accounts.

The committee-reported bill would increase funding for each of the related agencies relative to the FY2021 enacted appropriation. Recommended FY2022 funding for the related agencies would generally be equal to or greater than the Administration’s request, with the exception of the Marine Mammal Commission (-4.8%) and the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (-0.3%).

FY2021 Supplemental Funding for CJS

P.L. 116-260 included $929 million in supplemental funding to help CJS agencies respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. Supplemental funding for the USMS, FBI, and BOP was included as general provisions (§§541-543) in the FY2021 CJS Appropriations Act. Supplemental funding for NOAA was included in Division M (Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2021) and supplemental funding for MBDA was included in Division N (Additional Coronavirus Response and Relief).

The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (P.L. 117-2) included $3.000 billion in supplemental funding to the EDA for economic adjustment assistance, to prevent, prepare for, and respond to COVID-19 and for responding to economic injury as a result of COVID-19. Of this amount, 25% is for states and communities that have been effected by the decline in the “travel, tourism, or outdoor recreation sectors.”
