Introduction

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) operates a large number of facilities across its three major administrations: the Veterans Health Administration (VHA), the Veterans Benefits Administration (VBA), and the National Cemetery Administration (NCA). VHA owns and operates approximately 5,593 buildings and operates another 1,714 leases.<sup>1</sup> VBA operates approximately 214 offices nationwide.<sup>2</sup> NCA operates 158 national cemeteries and 35 other cemeterial installations.<sup>3</sup>

Under current law, VA is restricted to naming facilities for the geographic region where the facilities are located.<sup>4</sup> For instance, the VA Medical Center in Washington, DC, is named the “Washington DC VA Medical Center.” VA cannot name the facility for an individual without an act of Congress requiring such name change.

Among Members of Congress, there is often interest in naming VA facilities, such as VA medical centers (VAMCs), hospitals, community-based outpatient clinics (CBOCs), regional offices, and cemeteries to commemorate specific individuals.<sup>5</sup> Since 1998, this has solely been a congressional prerogative accomplished through legislation with rules set by the House and Senate Committees on Veterans’ Affairs (HVA and SVA, respectively). Legislative proposals from the current and previous Congress can be found in this report’s “Recent Examples of Legislation” section. This report provides a brief overview of the legal authority for naming VA facilities, the current process, and recent examples of legislation to name facilities.<sup>6</sup>

Authority for Naming Facilities

Congress established VA’s naming limitations under the Veterans Programs Enhancement Act of 1998 (P.L. 105-368). Under Section 1001 of the act, except as expressly provided by law, a facility, structure, or real property of VA, and a major portion (such as a wing or floor) of any such facility, structure, or real property, may be named by the VA only for the geographic area in which the facility, structure, or real property is located.<sup>7</sup>

Prior to enactment of this law, the VA Secretary’s authority to name facilities and the congressional role in the process was less clear. Based on debate included in the Congressional Record during consideration of the Veterans Programs Enhancement Act of 1998, then-Secretary of Veterans Affairs Togo West attempted to name a VA cemetery after Abraham Lincoln without congressional approval, which drew disapproval from then-Representative Ray LaHood:

Mr. Speaker, I rise to address the issue of naming VA facilities. This has been a very frustrating problem for me and my constituents, particularly in Springfield, Illinois.

<sup>5</sup> 38 C.F.R. §38.602 provides the Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs with the responsibility of naming features within national cemeteries. The Under Secretary can name features after historically notable persons, places, or events, in addition to geographic locations. For more information, see CRS Report R46813, Department of Veterans Affairs: Burial Benefits and the National Cemetery Administration.

<sup>6</sup> For more information on commemorating individuals in general, see CRS Report R43539, Commemorations in Congress: Options for Honoring Individuals, Groups, and Events.

On April 8 of this year, VA's Secretary Togo West issued a press release naming the cemetery-in-progress near Joliet, Illinois the "Abraham Lincoln National Cemetery." In my opinion, Mr. West's office moved unilaterally without any congressional or Committee on Veterans' Affairs input whatsoever, disregarding VA's own policy on naming facilities. Many of my colleagues from down-State Illinois were completely unaware of this.

Congress has well-established procedures for naming facilities of all kinds in honor of individuals. The VA chose to step outside its legal authority, ignoring procedures and precedent. VA's own policy clearly states that the naming of VA facilities in honor of individuals can be done only by congressional mandate.

This situation has me very concerned about the VA's apparent lack of regard for procedures. I am pleased that this legislation we are considering today provides a solution. The VA will no longer be able to sidestep proper procedures in naming facilities. Congress' authority to naming facilities in honor of individuals will be codified and, hopefully, no more confusion will exist.<sup>8</sup>

The VA cemetery was ultimately named after President Abraham Lincoln. However, since passage of the act, VA has deferred to Congress in the naming of federal property in honor of individuals.

Transferring Facility Names

The Veterans Programs Enhancement Act of 1998 did not grant VA the authority to transfer the name of a facility to another facility. For instance, if VA replaced an aging facility that was already named after an individual via congressional action, the department was limited to naming the new facility for the geographic location of the facility only. The 117th Congress enacted legislation amending 38 U.S.C. §531 to allow such a name transfer.<sup>9</sup>

The Secretary is now authorized to transfer the name of a property if

- the original property was designated with that name by law;
- the department no longer offers benefits or services at the original covered property;
- the other property is similar in type and purpose to the original named property; and
- the other property is located at a different location or address but within the same area (i.e., town, city, or other local government area) that was specified in the law that named the original facility.

The Secretary is required to notify the committees of jurisdiction and each Member of Congress representing the state in which the original property and the other property are located of the intent to transfer the name.

Facility Naming Rules

The rules for naming VA facilities are set by the HVAC and SVAC. At the start of each new Congress, the committees decide their respective committee rules of procedure, which historically include a rule for renaming facilities after a deceased individual.<sup>10</sup> In the 118th Congress, both veterans committees' rules outline similar requirements for facility or property renaming.<sup>11</sup> These rules prohibit naming a VA facility after an individual unless the individual is deceased and meets at least one of the following criteria:

- A veteran who was
  - involved in the construction of the facility;
  - a recipient of the Medal of Honor;
  - determined by the chairman and ranking minority member to have performed military service of an extraordinarily distinguished character; or
- a Member of the U.S. House of Representatives or Senate with direct association to the facility or property; or
- an Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Secretary of Veterans Affairs, Secretary of Defense or of a service branch, or a military or other federal civilian official of comparable or higher rank; or
- an individual determined by the chair and ranking minority member to have performed outstanding service for veterans.

In addition, each member of the congressional delegation representing the state where the designated facility or property is located must indicate, in writing, such member's support of the proposal to name such a facility or property after such an individual. Finally, the pertinent state department or chapter of each congressionally chartered veterans' organization with a national membership of at least 500,000 must indicate, in writing, its support of the bill.<sup>12</sup>

Both committees' rules allow for any of the above criteria to be waived by unanimous consent.

For the SVAC rules of procedure, see <https://www.veterans.senate.gov/committee-rules>.

<sup>11</sup> The HVAC rules of procedure include the phrase "facility or property." The SVAC rules of procedure only use the term "facility."

<sup>12</sup> Under certain circumstances, the committee may grant a waiver to accept written support from pertinent chapters or posts of chartered veterans' organizations in lieu of the State department. For more information on congressionally chartered veterans organizations, see CRS Report R47236, Title 36 Charters: The History and Evolution of Congressional Practices.

Recent Examples of Legislation

Legislation to name VA facilities is frequently considered in Congress. Typically, legislation to name VA facilities to commemorate an individual highlights the individual's accomplishments that merit such an honor in the legislative text. In addition, the legislative text identifies the location of the facility and the new name (see text box for a detailed example).

Selected Example of Enacted Legislation

To designate the clinic of the Department of Veterans Affairs in Mishawaka, Indiana, as the "Jackie Walorski VA Clinic." (P.L. 117-179)

The first clause includes findings, which briefly describe Jackie Walorski's life, including her ties to the area in which the facility is located:

- (1) Jackie Walorski was born August 17, 1963, in South Bend, Indiana.
- (2) Jackie Walorski grew up in South Bend raised by her parents, Martha, who worked at a local grocery store, and Raymond, an Air Force veteran and firefighter who owned an appliance store.
- (3) Jackie Walorski graduated from James Whitcomb Riley High School in 1981 and is an alumna of Taylor University.
- (4) Upon her graduation, Jackie Walorski worked as a reporter for a television station in South Bend and later worked for local chapters of the Humane Society and Chamber of Commerce as well as served as a development officer for area universities.
- (5) In 2000, she and her husband Dean Swihart moved to Romania and founded Impact International, a nonprofit foundation that provided medical supplies and attention to impoverished children while they served as missionaries there for four years.
- (6) In 2004, she was elected to the Indiana House of Representatives and subsequently reelected to that office every two years where she served three full terms in office.
- (7) In 2012, she was elected to the United States House of Representatives and subsequently reelected to that office until her death in a tragic car accident in 2022.
- (8) During her service in the United States House of Representatives, she was a passionate advocate for all her constituents, but especially veterans in the area.
- (9) During her service in the United States House of Representatives, she served on the Committee on Veterans' Affairs for two terms, during that time authoring the Veterans Mobility Safety Act of 2016 (Public Law 114-256).
- (10) In 2017, through her persistent advocacy for area veterans, the Department of Veterans Affairs completed construction of a medical clinic in St. Joseph County, Indiana, to meet the needs of Michiana area veterans.

The second clause identifies the facility to be named after the individual and specifies the name:

The clinic of the Department of Veterans Affairs located in Mishawaka, Indiana, shall after the date of the enactment of this Act be known and designated as the "Jackie Walorski VA Clinic."

The third clause specifies that "any reference in any law, regulation, map, document, paper, or other record of the United States" to the facility shall be deemed to be a reference to the new name.

Some of the most recent examples of VA naming legislation from the 118th and 117th Congresses are listed below. These include resolutions expressing support for facility names; unlike bills, such resolutions do not authorize facilities to be designated by particular names. Enacted legislation is listed first, followed by introduced legislation.<sup>13</sup> These lists are not comprehensive and are provided as examples.<sup>14</sup>

<sup>13</sup> The 118th congressional session is still active as of the publication of this report. As such, some of the introduced legislation may be enacted before the close of the 118th Congress.
